

HAVING TROUBLE PLANNING YOUR MODULES?

CANNOT ROADMAP YOUR MODULES?

UNABLE TO TRACK YOUR PROGRESS?

TOO MANY WEBSITES TO VIEW?

NUS OUR SOLUTION MODULE PLANNER

1 INTEGRATED SOURCE OF INFORMATION

2 ORGANISATION OF MODULES

3 COMMUNITY INTERACTION

myISIS      CORS
NUSMODS

ModuleReview

INTEGRATED PLATFORM

- Like · Comment · Share
  - VIEW MODULE REVIEWS
  - SHARE YOUR ROADMAP
  - CONTRIBUTE YOUR OWN REVIEWS
  - RATE AND COMMENT REVIEWS
  - VIEW YOUR FRIENDS OR MODEL ROADMAPS

STILL NOT CONVINCED?

USER FINDINGS

Module planner is a life-saver! As the saying goes 'Time is money' and I had previously spent hours switching between tabs to search for module information. Although it was a short 30mins, I enjoyed using this exciting interactive planner packed with featured roadmaps, data accumulation etc. I can almost visualize the actualization of this prototype in near future. This is a good idea that can benefit a lot of students, but cursor displays can be improved.

Year 3/ Computer Science

Tried Module Planner and I was quite pleased. It had an intuitive user interface and it was easy to use. I liked the drag-and-drop function and the simplicity of its usage. The module information had additional details such as the Lecturers and exam timings, something that was previously not provided by CORS.

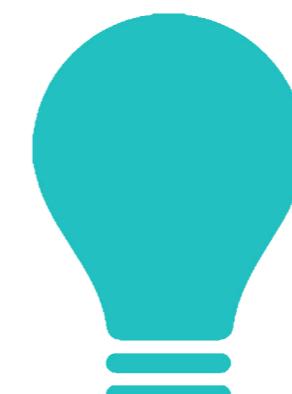

Year 3/ Information Systems

Overall, it was a fun experience trying out Module Planner. I loved the colour combination of turquoise, grey, white and black and the social elements of the websites, particularly the idea of roadmap "guides". It would be extremely helpful as I'm often at a loss on which modules to take. Also, being able to connect with my faculty-mates to discuss about modules made the planning process a whole lot more pleasant.

Freshman/ Computer Science

PROS

- ALL-IN-ONE
- CLEAR UI DESIGN
- INTUITIVE DESIGN
- EXCLUSIVE TO NUS SOC

CS3240
INTERACTION
DESIGN

Sponsors :

